THEIR AUDACITY.

In an editorial, yesterday morning, on the democratic platform, our esteemed contemporary, the Knoxville Tribune, perpetrates the following:

"A sound metallic basis for the currency is a heriditary dectrine of the democratic party. It has not always been consistently observed, but now that we are back to a solid basis, the democracy will tosist upon keeping it there. We would not have pursued the same course that the republican financiers have followed in accomplishing that great end, but, as it is no longer a question of means, the demoeracy is exactly upon a common ground with the republican party in maintaining the fruits of resumption, of even the much vaunted general tific American.

Terms, $3.20 per year, $1.60 half year, and consequently there is no issue be- order No. 40. tween them on this point.

There is a bold, unblushing audacity in such paragraphs as the order No. 40, issued on assuming com. New York. breath. It is immodest, to say the least, for a journal that so persists tion given him by President Johnson least, for a journal that so persists it was specially pointed out to him that he must subordinate the miliently fought against specie resumpage that he must subordinate the miliently fought against specie resumpage.

It was specially pointed out to him the world. Patents are obtained on best the world. Patents are obtai tion, to come up so soon after and claim public favor, because it is people undisturbed in the exercise of immense circulation thus given, public atnow on the platform of "a sound terfere only where interference was patent, and sales or introduction often metallic basis" for the currency of the country. It is a fact which can not be disputed, that the leaders of Tennessee democracy have been all along until within the past eighteen months, howling lunatics on the currency question. They now admit it themselves, by renouncing their former position and coming the country. It is a fact which can structions were precise and particular, and in the most celebrated passage in order No. 40 the language of the letter of instruction is followed almost verbatim.

"No doubt General Hancock was hear ily in accord with the policy of the president. If not, some other officer would have been selected as military governor for that district. But whether fully in accord or not, he would obey orders as unhesitatingly washington, D. C.

"Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably to finity to Munn & Co. We also send free out Hand Book about the Patent Laws, Patents, Caveats, Trade-Marks, their costs, and how procured, with hints for procuring advances on inventions. Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents.

The president's indication of the letter of instruction is followed almost verbatim.

"No doubt General Hancock was hear ily in accord with the policy of the president. If not, some other officer would have been selected as military governor for that district. impracticable, unsound, anwise, im-They admit that they have been wrong all the time, and that the republican party was right.

Now, having climbed upon our Figures Suggested by the Democratplatform, they are hoggish enough to try to crowd us off, and to claim the glory of having stood there all the time. Their virtue consists in having acquiesced in what they strug gled desperately to prevent but failed, and now in face of historical Green County, Alabama..... facts to the contrary, facts known to Wilkes County, Georgia..... every reading man in the land, they have the audacity to claim that they are for a thing they have steadily Yazoo County, Mississippi ...

And with such a wiserable record to explain and account for they expeet the people of this country to turn the control of the government over to them, simply because they have as a desperate expedient nominated for president a union major general. We do not believe it will be done.

one with democratic politicians. We never knew of a democratic followed by loud bluster and boasting, to the effect that its nominees were certain of election. In 1868, we were told after Seymour's nomis nation that he would "sweep the country." With the aid of Boss Tweed as a counter, he did carry New York, but was not elected. In 1872, when the democrats violated the person of poor old Horace Greeley, they said he would go in sure. Four year ago, when, in response to the old man's "bar'ls," they brought out the late Samuel J. Tilden as a great reformer, they swore he would be the next president. Now, when you meet the average young America of modern democracy, he gracefully caresses a feeble mustache, twirls a goldheaded cane or hugs the lamp-post more affectionately, and swears Hancock will be elected and inaugurated. If you venture to doubt his assertion, he will run both hands into pockets not plethoric with nickles, and with an expletive will propose to bet fabulous sums of money on it. If he proposes to bet five hundred dollars on it, though he never had five at any one time in his life, and it is not taken, he considers that his judgment is backed and that must be an end of it. It is not necessary for any one to become alarmed over such des monstrations. They are very harm-

OUR information in reference to the canvass of our candidate for governor is of the most encouraging character. Judge Hawkins has already made two or three speeches, and has out a list of appointments in West Tennessee, extending from the 3d to the 10th of July. He is doing good work, and receives encouragement from all quarters. He expects to visit East Tennessee during the present month, and desires to make a few speeches in counties off the line of railroad not usually visited by candidates for BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED governor. We will be glad to receive suggestions as to where these visits should be made, in order that we may communicate with Judge
